CURIE CASE MAY NOT

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 30.—Flying faster than the biting wind which swept the frozen race course, David L. Bruce-Brown, the young American millionaire, today established a new world's record for automobile road races in winning his second Grand Prize Race in as many years at an average speed of 74.65 miles an hour. His average hast year over the same course was 76.25 miles an hour. The supreme honor again went to an American driver piloting a foreign car, but this year it was an Italian Fiat instead of a German Benz that carried the dauntless Brace-Brown to victory. His clapsed time today for the 411.26 miles was 321 minutes and 23 12-100 seconds.

Eddic Hearne Second.

Bruce-Brown captured the greatest American trophy only after a flerce and nerve-racking struggle, in which Eddic Hearne, driving a Benz, was second, two minutes behind at 322.23 7-100, and Raiph De Palma third at 324.40 85-100. No mishaps involving life or limb marred the running of what will probably be the last of these classic races at Savannah.

A THRONG AT VATICAN CONVERSATIONS HEARD

American Prelates Attract Particular Detective on Lower Floor Able Attention-Gift of Cardinal's Robes to Cardinal Farley by Americans.

Rome, Nov. 36,-The concluding and curred this morning at the great oblic consistory at the vatican, when surteen princes of the church, includfourteen princes of the church, including the three American prelates, Cardinals Palconio, Farley and O'Conrell, were invested with the red hat indicating their rank. Thousands of people gathered along the streets to witness the passing of the cardinals, the great clerical nobles, the ambassadors and the guests invited to attend the ceremony within the walls of the vatical.

Excitement at the Vatican. Inside the vatican unusual excitement was evident, as for four years no consistory had been held, and for no consistory had been held, and for centuries not so many creations had occurred at one time.

Every available space in all the rooms and corridors along which the papal procession was to pass and in the hall of beatification, where the consistory was to take place, was occupied at an early hour. The hall of beatification, an immense chamber, had been specially prepared for the occasion. At one end stood the throne, danked by the cardinals stall and the places for high ecclesiastics, and the Sistine choir, while facing these were special tribunes for the diplomatic pecial tribunes for the diplomatic ody accredited to the holy see and for the Roman aristogracy. Beneath these latter had been arranged standing room for ticket holders, among whom were nearly 1,000 Americans.

Imposing Papal Procession. After all had taken their allotted piaces, distant strains of vocal music were heard and the low approaching murmur of many voices announced the arrival of the papal procession. The picture which then unrolled itself was magnificent. First came a jeweled cross held by a white-clad figure. Followmagnificent. First came a jeweled cross held by a white-clad figure. Following came a group of Swiss guards in their old world uniforms of red, black and yellow designed by Michael Angelo, the men carrying halberds. Then came the Sistine choir, led by Abbe Perosi, singing as they marched, and after them ecclesiastics of all orders, priests in black, monks in brown and white heads of religious congregations and members of the papal court dressed in members of the papal court dressed in quaint Elizabethian costumes.

upon the assembly, broken by the ris-ing to their feet of the cardinals of Curia, who advanced to do homage to the pope, and then to introduce into the papal presence the new princes of American Prelates Attract Attention.

The venerable group which now entered drew the gaze of all present. The American prelates, John N. Farley, archbishop of New York, William O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, and Diomeda Falconio, formerly apostolic legate at Washington, were eagerly pointed out. They with the other cardinals just created approached the papal throne and one by one knelt before Plus X, kissing his hand and foot and receiving the papal embrace. They and receiving the papal embrace. They were then led to the places set apart for them to the accompaniment of music by the Sistine choir.

The new cardinals then again advanced separately to the foot of the throne to receive their red hats, which were held over the head of each reciptent by the master of ceremonies, while the pontiff repeated in his melodious voice the usual Letin formula for such occargions after which he are for such occasions, after which he

Rings Presented to Cardinals,

After the public had dispersed all the cardinals, both old and new, joined the pope in the hall of the consistory for a supplementary secret consistory presided over by the head of the church, when he granted the new cardinals the privilege of participating in and speaking at meetings of the congregations, placed the cardinal's ring on their fingers and assigned to each of them the charge of a titular church in Rome.

The ring given by the pope to each of the new cardinals is a very simple one, consisting of a sapphire without other stones set solidly in gold in such a way as to allow the papal cost of a simple to be engraved on the back. It is furnished by the congregation of propaganda, which has had this privilege since the time of Pius VII.
